COLUMBUS PATROLMAN AND AUTO BANDIT SLAIN IN GUN BATTLE; ONE POLICEMAN IS WOUNDED

WOMAN ADMITS SHE SENT POISON CANDY

(CHILTON, WIS., November 28.—(By the Associated Press).—Miss Anna Lenz, 30 year old daughter of a wealthy farmer, faced arraignment on a charge of murder, after her alleged confession yesterday that she sent poisoned candy which resulted in the death of Mrs. Frank Schneider.

According to District Attorney Arphs, Miss Lenz admitted buying poison and inserting it in a chocolate bar, intending to send it to Mrs. Henry Schneider, sister-in-law of the dead woman. She said, according to the district attorney, that she did not discover her mistake until she heard of the death of Mrs. Frank Schneider after eating the candy. She then visited the Schneider home and destroyed the package and wrapper, according to the reported confession.

According to the district attorney, Miss Lenz said the reason for sending the poison was that Mrs. Henry Schneider had spread reports which she regarded as having damaged her reputation. She said that preyed on her mind.

Mrs. Schneider died last Tuesday afternoon after eating candy received through the mails. She was the mother of eight children.

A druggist told the district attorney that Miss Lenz had bought poison and a grocer said he had sold her a chocolate bar. A mail carrier recalled having received a box from her home to mail on the date of the poisoning.

Record Flight For Pony Blimp

(BELLEVILLE, ILL., November 28.—(By the Associated Press).—A record American flight for a pony blimp was made yesterday when the small dirigible of Scott Field, the government's lighter than air station near here, traversed 450 miles from the field to Bryan, Ala., in 10 hours, army officers announced today.

Cars Crash; Score Hurt

(CLEVELAND, O., November 28.—(By the Associated Press).—Three persons were seriously injured and twenty or more shaken up and cut by flying glass in a collision between two street cars at East 55th street and Carnegie avenue this morning. The three seriously injured were taken to a hospital. Both cars were north bound and were filled with men and women bound for work. Ice on the tracks was blamed for the crash.

France Plans To "Pay Herself" In Germany

(PARIS, November 28.—(By the Associated Press).—The intention of France to "pay herself" in Germany, comes before a full meeting of the cabinet today. A plan for direct action through the seizure of part of the Ruhr district and absolute control of the French section of the Rhineland which was considered and approved at yesterday's meeting of military and civil authorities at the Elysee Palace, will be submitted for final approval. There no longer is much faith here in any inter-allied solution of the reparations question, even though the Brussels conference is held.

Boch Ready To Move Army

Marshal Foch is understood to have told President Millerand and Premier Poincare at yesterday's meeting that a plan for expanding the military occupation of the right bank of the Rhine had been prepared with the utmost care and that it could be executed within 24 hours notice.

M. Tardieu, the French high commissioner for the Rhineland, in discussing his part in any necessary action, said that given administration of the territory occupied by France on the left bank of the Rhine could be immediately taken over by competent French authorities.

This program would be applicable only after January 15, for Germany now has a moratorium until the end of December and the first payment under the existing scheme of reparations now in suspension, would be due in the middle of January. Germany's failure to meet this payment would, in the opinion of the French, automatically give them the right to act.

Premier Poincare's purpose in his appeal to the action last Sunday to submerge party feelings in "sacred union" in support of the government, now is seen.

Drastic Program Of Action
This drastic program of action naturally hinges upon the outcome of the Brussels conference, but there is such doubt that the meeting would reach a satisfactory decision on the reparations question or that it will even be held, that the French think (Continued on Page Seven)

(ATHENS, November 28.—(By the United Press).—Six members of the Greek cabinet that fell when King Constantine was deposed, were executed here today. It was officially announced. They were shot by a firing squad. The ministers were condemned by a military court which investigated the recent Greek defeat in the war with Turkey. They were accused of being responsible for a Greek collapse.

(LONDON, November 28.—(By the Associated Press).—The Greek former ministers condemned to death by the military court in Athens have been executed says an Exchange Telegraph dispatch from Athens this afternoon.

It was stated in official circles this afternoon that the immediate withdrawal of the British minister at Athens will result from the executions.

(LONDON, November 28.—(By the Associated Press).—There is the strongest possibility that Great Britain will break off diplomatic relations with Greece if the death sentences imposed on former Greek cabinet officers are carried out, it was stated in official circles today.

The precedent of such action by the British it was suggested, would probably be the break in diplomatic relations with Serbia in 1903 as a result of the murder of the Serbian majesties by revolutionaries.

(LONDON, November 28.—(By the Associated Press).—A Central News dispatch from Athens says that the court martial, which has been hearing treason charges against several former cabinet ministers, imposed the death sentence on M. Goumaris M. Protopoulakis and M. Stratos, former premier; M. Theotokis, former minister of war; M. Baltazis, who held portfolios in several cabinets and General Hadjicostas, who commanded the Greek forces in the recent debacle in Asia Minor.

The dispatch adds that General Staitagos and Admiral Goudas were sentenced to life imprisonment.

Seeks Damages For Lynching

(LEXINGTON, S. C., November 28.—(By the Associated Press).—Suit has been brought against Lexington county for $7,500 as the result of the lynching of Will Allen, a negro, near here, in August, 1921, it became known today. The action is brought by Mary Allen, his widow, as administratrix of the estate of her husband.

Allen was shot to death after being taken from officers who had captured him following his shooting of Noah Preick, a white man.

Two Wives Claim Tiernan; "Bride Of Day" And Former Wife Are In Further Tangle (HANSSELL, IOWA, November 28.—(By the Associated Press).—Mrs. Charles H. Hawu, mother of Mrs. Blanche Hawu-Tiernan, back here from Marshalltown, Ia., where they spent yesterday investigating the marital status of Mrs. Tiernan, announced that her daughter legally was entitled to wed Professor John P. Tiernan in their Crown Point, Ind., ceremony last Saturday.

It is Mrs. Blanche Tiernan, definitely, said Mrs. Hawu, and Professor Tiernan and Mrs. Augusta Tiernan must settle their legal status in Indiana.

Claims To Be Legal Wife

"My daughter never intended to marry Tiernan when she went to Chicago last Thursday night," the mother said. "Tiernan wired her to come to Chicago that day and she went. They had expected to be married at Christmas time, but Tiernan, I believe got excited and the hasty marriage at Crown Point was the result."

"My daughter never has been a very calm thinker, acting frequently on the impulse of the moment and this, together with Tiernan's insistence, no doubt easily won her over."

"She did nothing wrong. She is the only legal wife of Tiernan as the court records in Marshalltown have cleared her divorce record, which Mr. Tiernan seems to worry about."

Gets Movie Offer

The daughter's main idea is to prove to the world that she is the legal wife of Professor Tiernan, Mrs. Hawu said. Looking toward that end two motion picture offers have been refused, she said.

The daughter plans to spend several days at the home of her first husband, Floyd Rush, in Marshalltown. His parents live there, and her four year old son, Kenneth, is with them.

Threads More Tangled

(SOUTH BEND, IND., November 28.—(By the Associated Press).—With the threads of the domestic affairs of Professor and Mrs. John P. Tiernan becoming more tangled by many new developments since the start of the Tiernan-Poulin paternity case, the next move of the principals toward a restoration of harmony in the household was being watched with interest today.

Despite the fact that Professor Tiernan announced last night that the reconciliation with his first wife was moving along satisfactorily, a dispatch from Marshalltown, Ia., quoted Mrs. Blanche Brimmer Tiernan, the professor's "bride of a day" as saying that she was the latter's wife and was going to live with him. She said she expected Tiernan to arrive at the Iowa city Wednesday.

Whether the professor will carry out his announced intention of dismissing the divorce petition against the first Mrs. Tiernan and have the appeal of the paternity case against Harry Poulin dismissed, or whether he will take action to have his marriage to the second Mrs. Tiernan pronounced legal, are steps that remain to be determined by future developments.

McAdoo Arrested For Speeding

(FRESNO, CAL., November 28.—(By the Associated Press).—Wm. Gibbs, McAdoo, of Los Angeles, former secretary of the treasury, was arrested in Tulare county yesterday afternoon and cited to appear before Judge J. S. Clark Saturday to answer a charge of speeding at the rate of 51 miles an hour. According to the traffic officer who arrested Mr. McAdoo, he pursued the McAdoo car, containing Mr. and Mrs. McAdoo and their chauffeur, three miles. McAdoo was enroute to Fresno, where he addressed the bar associations of three counties last night. Judge Clark has the reputation of jailing drivers caught exceeding fifty miles an hour in Tulare county.

STATE TO END PRICE CONTROL DECEMBER 1

(CLEVELAND, O., November 28.—(By the Associated Press).—State control of coal prices will be terminated December 1, if Governor Davis puts his stamp of approval on the recommendation of Fuel Administrator Clarence J. Neal. In a formal communication to the governor, Neal recommended that the fuel administration be abolished on Friday and that the machinery be dismantled.

While the governor had made no announcement today, it was believed that he would follow the recommendation of the administrator and after the first of the month allow fuel prices to be governed entirely by supply and demand.

Cessation of coal shipments over the lakes to the northwest and a resultant increased supply for Ohio was given as the basis for Neal's suggestion. The emergency which called for state intervention in the coal market passed when the late shipments stopped, Neal said.

Summarizing the work of his administration, Neal declared that the price control legislation had stopped a runaway market and saved coal consumers in Ohio millions of dollars through stabilization of the market and maintenance of reasonable prices.

This was accomplished at a cost of $13,255 to date, he said, predicting that the total cost to the state would not exceed $15,000. The legislature which passed the fuel bill in special session appropriated $1,045,007 for the work of the administrator.

Should an emergency again arise the fuel administration could again be established any time before March 31, 1923, when the law becomes ineffective, Neal pointed out.

COUNTRY NEAR WEST JEFFERSON SCoured FOR OTHER BANDITS

(COLUMBUS, O., November 28.—(By the Associated Press).—Two men are dead—a Columbus policeman and an unidentified automobile bandit—as the result of the attempt of two Columbus policemen to arrest four men here this morning who are said to have been driving an automobile stolen in Cleveland last night.

Within a few minutes after the abandoned car of the bandits had been found near West Jefferson, six police automobiles from Columbus were scouring that neighborhood.

Each of the police machines was loaded with officers and deputized citizens, armed with shot guns. When extra editions of the newspapers were published (telling about the shooting, many citizens rushed to police headquarters and offered their services in the manhunt.

Patrolman Gramison P. Koehler died in a local hospital shortly before nine o'clock and a few minutes later reports received at police headquarters said that a large touring car, answering the description of the one stolen in Cleveland, and in which the bandits were seen in Columbus, had been located near West Jefferson, with the body of a man who had been shot to death lying on the rear seat.

Corporal Rescoe C. Fridelle is in a local hospital, suffering from a wound in the left jaw.

The two Columbus policemen were on the lookout for the bandit car, headquarters here having been notified of the theft last night. Hauling the car, the officers searched the four men and took two revolvers. Koehler went to a nearby call box to summon a patrol wagon while Fridelle guarded the prisoners.

After Koehler had summoned the patrol, one of the bandits, who was still in the car, opened with a revolver, which apparently had been hidden in the car. Koehler, hit by four bullets, fell to the street. Fridelle, wounded in the jaw, emptied his revolver and the two which had been taken from the thugs, at the fleeing car.

Koehler and Fridelle were found lying in the street when the patrol wagon crew arrived. They were rushed to a nearby hospital. Fridelle's wound is not serious it was said at the hospital.

A dragnet had been thrown round the countryside near West Jefferson, where the abandoned car was found and police machines are patrolling all roads in that vicinity. Police in nearby cities also have been requested to be on the lookout for the bandits.

Radio was brought into play in connection with the escape of the bandits through the courtesy of a local electrical company. Descriptions of the bandits was broadcasted to points as far west as Indianapolis and as far east as Pittsburgh.

Car Stolen In Cleveland

(CLEVELAND, O., November 28.—(By the Associated Press).—Frank Laughlin may be able to identify three bandits who shot a police officer in Columbus early today and drove away in an automobile they had stolen from Laughlin in Cleveland, several hours before arriving at police here.

Laughlin, operating a touring car in a taxi-cab service, picked up three men in the downtown section last night and started to drive them to an east end address. Before reaching the address the three passengers held Laughlin up at the point of a revolver, robbed him of $2.30 and forced him into the rear seat while one of their number took over the wheel. The robbers later forced Laughlin from the car and drove away, cautioning him not to report the matter until this morning. Laughlin immediately reported the holdup to police and a long distance message from Columbus police this morning said three men in an automobile bearing the same license number, had driven away after shooting a policeman.

The stolen car belongs to Maurice Schiffman, of Cleveland.

Body Found In Rest Of Auto

(SPRINGFIELD, O., November 28.—(By the Associated Press).—The body of one of the bandits who killed one policeman and wounded another in Columbus this morning, was found on the rear seat of a Packard touring car near West Jefferson this morning with four bullet holes through his back. The man was described as being between 45 and 50 years of age, sandy haired and heavy set. In one of his pockets was found a bank-pass book bearing the name of Peter Long, Erie, Pa., leading police to believe that the four men who occupied the car previous to abandoning it because they ran out of gas, were members of the Red McGannon gang, who recently held up and robbed an Erie, Pa., bank.

The car had nine bullet holes in the rear and there was some evidence that a number of shots had been fired inside the tonneau.

Police from Springfield and surrounding cities are on the alert for the three men who escaped and left their companion to die. The man's body was still warm when found.

MRS. HALL DEMANDS HEARING BY A JURY

(SOMERVILLE, N. J., November 28.—(By the Associated Press).—Mrs. Frances Stevens Noel Hall, widow of Rev. Edward Wheeler Hall, who was slain on September 14, with his choir singer, Mrs. Eleanor R. Mills, appeared today at the county court house, where a grand jury is investigating the double murder.

Friends of Mrs. Hall had circulated a petition asking that she be allowed to appear before the grand jury. That body, however, has not indicated its attitude, although special duty Attorney General Mott has stated that he would not permit her appearance if it were possible to prevent her.

THE TIMES WEATHER MAN

Mrs. Hall, accompanied by her lawyer, Timothy N. Pfeiffer, and her confidante, Miss Sallie Peters, entered the court house dressed in deep black. She took her seat in the foyer with other witnesses. With Miss Peters she had left her home early today and with efforts to conceal her movements, motored to Roundbrook to meet Mr. Pfeiffer. She left her home by a back door where Peter Timmely, her chauffeur, was waiting with her car.

Miss Peters said Mrs. Hall would demand a hearing. As far as could be learned, Mrs. Hall had not been subpoenaed.

Ferdinand Davis, who claimed to have seen Mrs. Hall return home after the murders had taken place, was the first witness called today.

Accompanied by state troopers, Mrs. Jane Gibson, pig raiser, hailed by the state as its star witness, arrived at the court house shortly after 10:30.

Smith To Tell

Sea Lion Hunt

One of the almost countless thrilling experiences of "Grizzly" Smith, the hunter and sportsman, who is to be in Portsmouth Wednesday night, November 29, at the High School Auditorium concerns a Sea Lion hunt in which he took part many years ago off the mouth of the Coquille River in Coos County, Oregon. His companions on the expedition were Captain Harry Strand, an old sea captain who had been engaged in eastwise trade along the Pacific Coast, and T. J. Edson, a miner of gold sand at a place called Gold Beach near the mouth of the Rogue River.

"We pulled out over the reef situated about six miles off shore shortly after noon in three open boats," said Mr. Smith in telling of the experience. "The largest boat contained our supplies. We reached the seal rocks about three o'clock, but when we attempted to land we found it impossible on account of the great number of sea lions which already had taken up their quarters for the breeding season. We tried in every way to drive them off the reef, but were unable to land. That night a storm came up and we had some thrilling experiences in the open boats anchored in the kelp beds just north of the reef. It kept two of us busy bailing out the water.

"After we had been on the rocks about two weeks killing eight or ten lions a day, trying out the oil, and salting their skins, we sighted a sea otter, about a quarter of a mile north of the reef in the kelp beds. These animals have very valuable pelts and as we wished to give chase we launched one of the boats and I was put on top of one of the small rocks which would be completely submerged at high tide, about a half mile north of the seal rocks, while Edson and Strand tried to drive the otter past me.

"It was low tide with comparatively calm sea and I would be perfectly safe until the tide rose, but instead of the otter coming in my direction it bore off to the southeast and Edson and Strand gave chase and got a considerable distance away. The tide rose and I was washed from the summit of the rocks several times and nearly exhausted when they returned to rescue me."

Miss Maxwell Thrills Appreciative Audience

(By Elmer Ende)
The advent of winter over brings the songbirds from the opera house, so came Margery Maxwell, soprano from the Metropolitan, and a fine audience gathered to hear her last evening at the High School Auditorium. This was the second of the artist recitals under auspices of the Ladies' Musical.

The classic purity of Mozart is a delight to the jaded palate of the devoted music lover. Therefore when the program began with Susanna's love-suiting air from "Figaro" we felt that the old things are a joy forever and that their recreation is the privilege of youth and the delight of the young in heart. Miss Maxwell, being a young woman of much charm and poise, brought out the calm sweetness of the air impeccably. It was a study in precision and fine restraint. This can also be said of her singing in the air from "L'elisir d'Amour."

There was a group of French songs, delicious from the Gallie kitchen, palatable if not nourishing. Miss Maxwell caught the elusive charm enlivened and spun it prettily.

But her English groups were a surprise. Here were some beautiful songs. Admirable in clearness of wording, neither extravagant in sentiment nor manner.

Miss Maxwell's voice is an even lyric soprano, firm with no exceptional element of warlike but an organ fresh and technically correct. It is not emotional in its powers, still we exclaim: "How well she sings!" Her art is exact and, that too in the upper register, which she does not abuse.

Miss Kathryn Foster, provided careful accompaniments and played several ultra-modern works deftly. The familiar Liszt "Dream of Love" added, fell on welcome ears.

So once again, we wonder why public performers do worship at the altars of new gods while the immortals stand before us begging a hearing. That actually seems to be the case now. The younger generation must be permitted to hear the beautiful art in it if it is to receive nourishment for today and after.

A little of the new but not too much of it. Much of this "decomposed music" sounds like the agonized cry of a delicious mauling rager in the Kentucky hills on a frosty morning in January.

Machine Stolen

A Ford touring car belonging to John Strickland was stolen about seven-thirty Monday evening from Sixth street, near Chillicothe, and although he reported the theft to the police, and the officers scoured the city, no trace of the missing machine was secured.

Strickland is a McDermott man, but is employed in this city and boards at 2307 Gallia street.

Two weeks ago Dr. Frank A. Coburn's car was stolen from exactly the same spot. It was later recovered in Cincinnati.

SISTERSVILLE—Wetzel lodge, A. F. and A. M., of New Martinsville, will be invited to officiate at the cornerstone laying ceremonies of the new high school buildings at Paden City and New Martinsville.

SISTERSVILLE—J. M. Baker, county assessor, has been taken to a Wheeling hospital where it is expected he will undergo an operation.

CHARLESTON—Deaths resulting from mine accidents during the last month numbered 41, according to a report from the state department of mines.

MARTINSBURG—Stuart A. West, enhaver, for many years one of the best known contractors in this section died suddenly here.

WHEELING—Sam Harnate, mill worker, suffered the amputation of a toe on his right foot in an accident at the Laughlin mill in Martins Ferry.

CLARKSBURG—Charles A. Benet, a Little Rock Clump farmer, was acquitted in the Harrison county criminal court of a charge of liquor law violation. It was shown in his trial that the warrant by which he was arrested was intended for use in searching another house.

WHEELING—Guy L. Morris, sentenced to serve five years in the state penitentiary when he entered a plea of guilty to a charge of fraudulent sale of stock was removed to the Moundsville prison.

HUNTINGTON—Fifty Huntingtonians have had trees planted in this section of Ritter park given over to the Growing Tree Memorial which is under the auspices of the Grand Army of the Republic.

WHEELING—The fall reunion of the Ancient and Accepted Scottish Rite of Freemasonry was featured by a class of 143 candidates taking from the twentieth to the thirty-first degree.

MORGANTOWN—Several score West Virginia farm boys and girls have received attractive Christmas presents in the shape of 4-11 state fair checks as their prizes for exhibits at the fair held in Charleston under the auspices of the Kanawha farm bureau.

HUNTINGTON—Clerks employed by the Chesapeake and Ohio railway company have been granted a two-cent an hour increase in wages, the increase to become effective December 1. It was announced by J. H. Parrish, general manager of the company.

MOUNDSVILLE—Love of money caused Claude Garner, colored, to refuse to accept immediately a parole granted him by the state board of pardons. Garner wanted to take part in the annual Thanksgiving Day minstrel show. He had served six of an 18-year sentence for murder.

WHEELING—Samuel V. McCuskey, was painfully burned about the hands and face by flames from a galvanizing pot at the Wheeling Steel and Iron company.

CHARLESTON—W. D. Sampson, H. G. Whitlock and G. E. Elliott were held to the grand jury under $2,000 bond each by Justice of the Peace G. D. Acree on a charge of burning a house near St. Albans. Sampson furnished bond and the others went to jail. All entered pleas of not guilty.

WHEELING—Sam Mazel admits he takes the prize as an easy mark. Three strangers approached him and remarked they had more money than he. Sam doubted and showed them his bank book. He was credited with deposits of $500, representing his life savings. The men told Mazel to get the money to prove it. He did. He showed the cash to the strangers and later in the day asked the police to recover his roll.

GASSAWAY—The Wild Life League of West Virginia formed a local organization here.

PARKERSBURG—A 30-minute parking limit ordinance has been passed by city council.

Why Grow Old Before Your Time?

It isn't years alone that make one old. Many folks are younger at 70 than others are at 30. A lame back, stiff, aching joints, rheumatic pains, bad eyesight and bladder irregularities are often due to kidney weakness and not advancing years. Don't let weak kidneys age you. Use Doan's Kidney Pills. Doan's have made life more comfortable for thousands of elderly folks. Ask your neighbor!

HERE'S A PORTSMOUTH CASE—Mrs. C. Koffer, 820 11th St., Portsmouth, says: "I had the grip and it left my kidneys weak. My back ached and I had a dull aching across my kidneys. It felt as if my back were being pulled in two. I had dizzy headaches, and was all out of life. Doan's Kidney Pills bought at Storch's Drug Store cured me of the trouble."

Ford Offers $20,000,000 For Mayo Estate

The Ashland Independent Monday said:

Henry Ford will name a definite date tomorrow for his trip here this week to inspect the property of the Ekron Coal Corporation. John E. Buckingham announced last night.

Mr. Ford, his son Edsel and a party of Ford engineers headed by William B. Mayo, chief aide to the automobile manufacturer, will be here to make a tour of the Big Sandy Valley to gain first hand knowledge of the vast stretches of coal lands the Detroit wizard is seeking to buy. The negotiations were practically closed in New York last week at a conference with C. W. Watson, chairman of the Ekron board; Mr. Buckingham, large stockholder and one of the trustees of the estate of the late John C. C. Mayo; J. W. M. Stewart, secretary of the company and John W. Patton traffic manager of the A. C. and I. railroad.

It is expected that Mr. Ford will pay particular attention to the water front of Ashland and Ironton, inspect again the old railroad bridge piers in the Ohio river here, go over the existing rail lines toward his acquisitions and over the proposed rights of way from Denton and Wehrville to Blaine in Lawrence county, through Johnson, Magoffin, Floyd, Pike and Letcher counties.

It is expected that Mr. Buckingham, Mr. Stewart, Mr. Patton and others will accompany the delegation after entertaining it in Ashland.

The proposed sale includes about 304 square miles of coal and measures comprising largely the estate of late Mr. Mayo and for which Mr. Ford is reported to have offered $20,000,000.

May Issue Bonds For New Equipment

PIKETON, Nov. 28.—J. D. Withgott, of Chillicothe met with the Piketon village council last Friday evening to advise them in the matter of issuing bonds for the purpose of raising money to purchase a new engine and generator for the village light plant. Every member of the council except S. S. Daily was present at the meeting. Mr. Daily's absence was occasioned by a meeting of the Piketon school board which it was necessary for him to attend as he is a member of that body. Attorney Withgott advised the council that in view of the fact that the total appraisement of real estate in Piketon was $600,000 the village would be authorized to issue bonds to the extent of $3,000 without a vote of the people. The approximate cost of the plant will be $5,000 and as no bonds have been issued for the year of 1922, by issuing bonds for half the cost of the plant this year and one half next year it will not be necessary to bring the bond issue to a vote of the people. However, as it is necessary for council to vote one bond issue at least thirty days before the end of the year it will be necessary for them to have a meeting this week to dispose of the matter. Attorney Withgott is preparing some legal advice on the matter and will meet with the council at their next meeting which will be one night this week.

Sergeant Baldwin Is Exonerated

Sergeant L. M. Baldwin, formerly of this city, has been completely exonerated from all blame by a military court in connection with the recent death of a military convict, an inmate of the disciplinary barracks maintained by the United States in connection with the Federal penitentiary at Fort Leavenworth, Kans., who died from a blow struck by Baldwin, sergeant of the D. B. guard, according to a clipping from a Ft. Leavenworth paper just received by his sister, Mrs. Lena Hughes, 314 Waller street.

Evidence brought out by the military authorities showed, the paper says, that the dead man was the aggressor in the fight which resulted in his death and that the fatal blow was struck after the prisoner had attacked another guard.

Sergeant Baldwin lived with his sister, Mrs. Hughes in this city before entering the military service a few years ago and he has many friends here.

Oil Station Manager Held Up

Two young men who went about in a car, robbing the Pure Oil Company's gasoline filling station at the end of the Scioto river, bridge last evening in such a systematic manner that they appeared to have their plans well laid, were held up by a patrolman with about $70.00, the day's receipts at the filling station. With two drawn revolvers they held George Bromley, manager of the station, at a safe distance while they rifled the safe and then ran from the station and jumped in a Ford touring car, in which they disappeared up Second street.

The young men chose the right time for the robbery, for the station was about ready to close, for the night and of course the day's receipts were supposed to be on hand. The many factory people, who pass that station each evening had already gone to their homes on the West Side and a redneck passed only at intervals of several minutes apart. Just a few minutes before seven o'clock a Ford touring car of old model drove up to the door from the northwest, or bridge side of the station. Both young men got out of the machine, and were inside before Bromley could get up out of his chair and outside to inquire what was wanted. Bromley had just got to his feet when the men stepped inside, with revolvers drawn, and commanded him to stick up his hands.

Bromley backed up against the oil tank and cans of oil, and put his hands up over his head. One of the men, who kept strict watch on Bromley, ordered him to lower his hands and he did. "About level with the counter," he said. "They did not want to take any chances on anyone passing who would see Bromley with his hands raised over his head. The other fellow pulled open the drawer in the desk, near the door, and grabbed $25.00 bills, the $5 denomination. He then ordered Bromley to open the small safe in the corner of the station, but the other fellow quickly informed him that the door was open. With a gun in his right hand pointing at Bromley, this man stooped down and took the money out of the safe with his left hand and thrust it into his coat pocket. The safe contained over $30 in one dollar bills, seven dollars in silver and some small change. In his haste the man rifling the safe dropped some small change, but did not bother to pick it up.

Bromley, with two revolvers pointing at him, did not dare make a move or call for help. According to Bromley, when the first man stepped in and thrust the revolver into his face, the gun looked as big as an oil barrel.

The men backed out of the station and while one started the machine the other stood on the running board with his gun turned on Bromley. The machine sped up Second street at a fast rate.

Bromley and one alone, but could not get the license number. He then rushed to the West Point grocery, from where he called the police. Several officers were soon on the scene, but no trace of the two young men or machine could be found. Sheriff Ricker was also notified and the officers kept a close lookout all evening in an effort to locate the robbers or their automobile. Bromley got a good look at the young man who gave all his attention to him and says he would be sure to recognize him if he ever saw him again. Both were well dressed. Police are of the opinion that local talent slanted the holdup and robbery and they are to make every effort possible to unearth a clue that will lead to the arrest of the robbers.

This is the third robbery the Pure Oil Company has had here. The main office on Court and Tenth streets was broken into and the safe cracked, while the other robbery was at the Kinney's Lane and Scioto Trail station, where robbers took the safe out and cracked it in an empty lot across the street. About $1,200 was secured from the main office and about $80 from the Kinney's Lane safe. No trace was ever found of the robbers in either case.

Hastings' Dismissal Is Sustained By Commission

COLUMBUS, O., November 28.—(By The United Press).—The state civil service commission today affirmed the order issued by Welfare Director W. McFarland removing Captain H. C. Hastings as superintendent of the Boys' Industrial School at Lancaster. Hastings was dismissed September 6 for alleged inefficiency, and mismanagement, disclosed by investigations of conditions at the institution. Charges against him included allegations that boy inmates at the institution had been mistreated and inhumanly treated for minor offenses and that guards had inflicted corporal punishment without interference. Hastings denied all the charges and filed an appeal with the civil service commission seeking reinstatement.

His removal, he asserted, was a political frame-up. During the hearing

Officials claim that they found 32 half pints of liquor at Clifford's home.

Smith Case Reversed; Remanded
"For error in the charge and the cause the verdict does not show that the defendant was found guilty as charged in the indictment." Court of Appeals in a written opinion filed in the office of the clerk of courts Tuesday reversed the Common Pleas court in the celebrated case of The State of Ohio against Myrtle Smith, Powellville woman, who was indicted for resisting and obstructing Sheriff E. E. Ricker in the execution of his office and was convicted by the jury's verdict of "abusing an officer in manner and form as charged in the indictment."

In its ruling the upper court held this was error, saying in this connection, "It is evident that this verdict should not have been received because defendant could not be found guilty of abusing an officer since she was not charged with abusing him." Continuing further the court says, "It

In her petition the plaintiff says they were married June 30, 1921, and then complains that Farmer has cursed and abused her, called her vile names, boasted of his conquests of other women, that he cared nothing for her and urged her to get a divorce for all he cared, besides, she declares, ever since their marriage the defendant has failed and refused to support her and refused to take her to a home of her own but instead left her with her mother to be cared for.

Miss Dolly Wise

She is here to answer any and all questions concerning love, matrimony, troubles, woes, etiquette, etc. Inquiries should be addressed to Miss Dolly Wise, care The Daily Times, Portsmouth, Ohio.

Dear Dolly—I am very much troubled so am coming to you for advice. There is a certain party that I have always thought my best friend—but she has proven to be my enemy. Some of the things I heard, she said about me, although they were not true, caused me much sorrow. She always treated me fine when I was with her but I have found that as soon as my back is turned she begins talking about me. Now, Dolly, tell me just in plain English what you think of such a girl. Don't you think if people attended to their own business they would have enough to do? Would you say anything to her concerning these lies she has told or leave her go? Please answer real soon.

GEORGIANA FROM VIRGINIA
I think it would be all right to ask your friend about the things you heard, and give her a chance to clear herself if she did not say them. Often people are accused of saying things that they did not say at all. However, if she did say them I would not have anything more to do with her. Then, too, I would not worry about them. Your friends know you too well to believe things that are untrue about you, and the girl who told them will find herself without any friends.

Dear Miss Wise—I came here from West Virginia to visit in this fair city and I must say that I was shocked to death to see so many young girls wearing men's clothing. Dolly, what kind of mothers do you suppose these girls have? Something must be wrong with their heads when they have no respect for their daughters. Dolly, if you could have heard the remarks that I heard about them you would surely advise them to stick to their own clothes and not try to wear men's clothing. What would you think of a man who would parade up and down Chillicothe street in a woman's dress? Would everybody think he was a fit subject for an insane asylum? People think the same thing about the girls who consider it smart to doll up in boys' clothes. Dolly, I want to get married, but I do not want a girl who has no respect for herself. I want one who can do housework and one I will not be ashamed to go out with. Please give me your advice about this.

SOCIETY

Mr. and Mrs. John Maurer and Mr. and Mrs. J. C. Storor planned and carried out a delightful surprise party on their parents, Mr. and Mrs. Emory Cline, of 816 Chillicothe street, last evening, in honor of their fifty-second birthday anniversary. A happy coincidence in connection with the celebration was that both their birthdays come just nine days apart.

The evening's festivities opened with the serving of a delicious three course lunch. The table was prettily appointed, with two large white birthday cakes mounted with candles, denoting the respective ages of the honor guests, forming the central adornment.

Places were marked for Mr. and Mrs. Emory Cline, Mr. and Mrs. Walter Hunt, Mr. and Mrs. Louis Lust and son Louis, Jr., Mr. and Mrs. J. C. Storor and son Joe, Mr. and Mrs. John Maurer and son Elmer, Mr. and Mrs. J. C. Storor.

The remainder of the evening was spent socially, cards and music forming the chief diversion. At a late hour the guests departed for their homes, wishing Mr. and Mrs. Cline many more happy birthdays. They also presented them with many beautiful gifts in honor of the occasion.

Frederick Phillips, young son of Mr. and Mrs. Henry Phillips, of 3155 Walnut street, who had his tonsils and adenoids removed at the Mercy clinic Saturday, is getting along nicely.

Mr. and Mrs. Floyd C. Fuller have returned from a visit with their brother and sister-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. Gilbert L. Fuller of Columbus. Their sister, Miss Mary Margaret Fuller, who accompanied them to the Capital City, will remain there for a longer visit.

Adventures Of The Twins

BY OLIVE ROBERTS BARTON

THE next letter the Green Wizard received was from Torty Turtle. He read it aloud to Nancy and Nick in his workshop up in the treetops where the Twins were helping him.

"Dear Mr. Green Wizard," he read. "Will you please help me to win a race? I'm going to run one with Cutie Cottontail because Cutie said that old story of the Tortoise and the Hare wasn't true, and he could beat me to the post and back before I got started. I told him he couldn't, but I'm not so sure. Could you send me a little magic to help along?"

"You're in hopes," TORTY TURTLE said. "Are you going to help him, Mr. Wizard?"

"I'm not sure," answered he slowly. "It doesn't seem fair, but at the same time Cutie should be cured of his boasting. Yes, I think I'll send Torty a little magical oil to rub on his feet. Just this once."

He gave them a bottle and off went the Twins to Torty's house by the side of Ripple Creek. Torty stuck out one foot at a time for Nancy to rub the oil in.

When Twelve Toes, the Sorcerer, heard about it, he was more jealous than ever. "I tell you what we'll do," he said to Light Fingers. "You dig a ditch just where Torty will fall into it and cover it with leaves. If he lands on his back all the magic in Fairyland won't do him any good then."

"So Light Fingers dug a pit when no one was looking and fixed it up so you'd never know it was there."

Bye 'n' bye all the people gathered around and the race started. Suddenly there was a crash and a cackle and something went into the pit—hop! But it wasn't Torty Turtle. It was Cutie Cottontail, and by the time he'd scrambled out Torty had reached the post and won the race.

Mr. and Mrs. John Cunningham of Eighteenth street, Mr. and Mrs. Tom Cunningham of Long Meadow moved to Yellow Springs to visit their brother, Will Cunningham, who has been in poor health for some time.

The Martha Washington Club, which was to have met Thursday of this week, has been postponed until Thursday, December 7th. All members are asked to make a note of the change.

Mrs. Ella M. Duis, returning from the concert at the High school last evening, found her home had been invaded by the members of the White Shrine of Jerusalem, who had assembled to honor her birthday anniversary.

Mrs. Duis, in her sweet and gracious way, told the members that she felt highly honored to have them with her.

During the evening Mrs. Frank Fleming gave a delightful little monologue in costume, entitled "The Blessings of a Spinster Lady of Fort."

The guests brought with them a large white and yellow birthday cake on which gleamed the appropriate number of candles. Delicious refreshments were served and the guests departed for their homes, leaving with Mrs. Duis a beautiful silver cream and sugar as a reminder of their visit.

That the surprise was the complete success that it proved to be, was due largely to the courtesy and hearty co-operation of her son, H. Glen Duis.

Those present included Mrs. J. E. Shump, Mrs. Terry Untied, Mrs. Clara Snyder, Mrs. W. L. Baker, Mrs. S. S. Bierley, Mrs. George Koerner, Mrs. Frank Flemming, Mrs. Adam Pfau, Mrs. Adolph Graf, Mrs. Ben Cross, Mrs. V. L. Zornes, Mrs. Lamar Bailey, Mrs. J. G. Shaw, Mrs. E. W. Smith, Mrs. J. W. Hopkins, Mrs. Edwin Rowson, Mrs. Adolph Rehnert, Mrs. George Gims, Mrs. J. E. Taylor, Mrs. Clara Graf and Mrs. J. W. Jenkins.

Mr. and Mrs. C. M. Mitchell and daughter Suzanne, of Huntington, Va., will arrive tomorrow evening to spend Thanksgiving with their brother-in-law and sister, Mr. and Mrs. C. E. Dowling, of Franklin avenue.

Mrs. C. L. Hyland of Third street will go to Cincinnati, Wednesday where she will be the guest of Mr. and Mrs. J. H. Hyland, until after Thanksgiving. After the first of the year, Mr. and Mrs. Hyland will make Cincinnati their permanent home.

The Trois-A-Trois Club has secured the services of the Fiddler's Three and Three orchestra for the dance, New Year's eve, to be given at Backman's Hall. This orchestra, under the management of Mr. Fiddler, himself, is one of the most popular orchestras of this section of the country, and has filled many successful engagements.

JACK DAW'S ADVENTURES

It was growing a bit cold and Flip whined. Jack was startled and a bit afraid that it would attract the aviator's attention. However, the noise of the plane engine drowned out Flip's commotion. Then Jack looked up into the sky and saw a big group of eagles flying through the clouds.

In his excitement Jack stood up in the plane, and of course, the aviator saw him. Suddenly the machine took a deep dip, and for a moment Jack thought it was going to crash to the earth. Then, as suddenly, it righted itself and Jack heard the aviator yell, "Where did you come from?"

Jack stood up in the plane to answer the aviator. A gust of wind nearly knocked him over. Then crouching down, he said, "I just wanted to take a ride." "Well," said the aviator, "you'll have to leave the plane. I'll let you have my parachute and you and your dog can drop."

How prettier teeth came to millions

Have you noted the gleaming teeth you see everywhere today? And the open smiles that show them? You can see that some great change has come in teeth-protecting methods. If you don't know what that change is, we urge you to make this test.

They combat the film

These people—millions of them—are now combating film. Film is that viscous coat you feel. It clings to teeth, enters crevices and stays. It absorbs stains, then forms dingy coats. Tartar is based on film.

Film also holds food substance which ferments and forms acid. It holds the acid in contact with the teeth to cause decay. Millions of germs breed in it. They, with tartar, are the chief cause of pyorrhea.

These troubles had been constantly increasing. Beautiful teeth were less often seen than today. And all because no old-time tooth paste could effectively fight film.

The problem solved

Then dental science, after long research, found two film combatants. One acts to curdle film, one to remove it, and without any harmful scouring.

Able authorities proved these methods effective. Then dentists everywhere began to advise their use.

A new-type tooth paste was created, based on modern research. The name is Pepsodent. Then these two great film combatants were embodied in it.

Pepsodent PAT. OFF.
REG. U.S.

The New-Day Dentifrice

A scientific film combatant which whitens, cleans and protects the teeth without the use of harmful grit.

Five unique effects

Pepsodent brings five effects which old ways never brought. Modern research proves them all important.

It multiplies the alkalinity of the saliva. That is there to constantly neutralize the acids which cause decay. It multiplies the starch digestant the saliva. That is there to digest starch deposits on teeth which may otherwise ferment and form acids.

Those are Nature's great tooth protecting agents. Pepsodent, with every use, gives them manifold effect. Pepsodent also polishes the teeth so film less easily adheres.

Nearly all the world over Pepsodent is bringing a new era in teeth cleaning. Careful people of some fifty nations now employ it, largely by dental advice. Every dainty person now should know the benefits it brings.

Send the coupon for a 10-Day Tube. Note how clean the teeth feel after using. Mark the absence of the viscous film. See how teeth whiten as the film costs disappear.

The results will amaze and delight you. Even one week will convince you. Do this for your family's sake. Cut out the coupon now.

Vitality and Strength Follow This Advice

Cambridge, Ohio.—"As I look back I wonder how much sickness I could have avoided. Had I known of and taken Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription when I first noticed signs of nervousness and a decline in strength, I was willing to try anything that was suggested to me and did try many things, but none seemed to reach the root of the trouble of doing any good. At last I heard of Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription, when my condition was very low, and its tonic strengthening effect was felt before the first bottle was entirely used. My increased strength and cheerfulness of spirits. I continued taking it until I had used six bottles, when there was no need for me to use it further as I was a well woman."

Makes a Family Supply of Cough Remedy

Really better than ready-made cough syrup, and saves about 5¢. Easily and quickly prepared.

If you combined the curative properties of every known "ready-made" cough remedy, you probably could not get as much real curative power as there is in this simple home-made cough syrup, which is easily prepared in a few minutes.

Get from any druggist 2½ ounces of Pinex, pour it into a pint bottle and fill it to the brim with syrup, using either plain granulated sugar syrup, clarified molasses, honey, or corn syrup, as desired. The result is a full pint of really better cough syrup than you could buy ready-made for three times the money. Tastes pleasant and never spoils.

2½ oz. Pinex and Syrup preparation acts right at the cause of a cough and gives almost immediate relief. It loosens the phlegm, stops the nasty throat tickle and heals the sore, irritated membrane so gently and easily that it is really astonishing.

A day's use will usually overcome the ordinary cough and for bronchitis, croup, hoarseness and bronchial asthma there is nothing better. Pinex is a most valuable concentrated compound of genuine Norway pine extract, and has been used for generations to break severe coughs. To avoid disappointment, ask your druggist for "2½ ounces of Pinex" with full directions, and don't accept anything else. Guaranteed to give absolute satisfaction or money promptly refunded. Mrs. George Evans of the "Blue Bird Inn," Wheelersburg, will serve a delicious turkey dinner, with all the trimmings, Thanksgiving day, both at noon and in the evening. The serving hours at noon are from twelve until two and in the evening from six until eight. Reservations should be made by Wednesday evening, if possible.

Do you know what to be thankful for on Thanksgiving day? If you see "The Step-Sisters," a playlet to be presented by some of the Senior and Junior girls of St. Mary's High School at the P. H. S. Thanksgiving evening, at eight, you will have another thing on your list before the day is fully ended. "Mechanical Jane" will be another enjoyable feature of the evening. These playlets will be the talk of the town. You had better see them so you will know what everyone is so enthusiastic about after Thanksgiving.

Miss Martina Tierney of Marysville, Ky., is visiting her sister, Mrs. Henry Gallenstein of 806 Offshore street. Miss Irene Tierney will arrive tomorrow evening to remain over Thanksgiving at the Gallenstein home.

Mr. and Mrs. Raymond D. York of Fifth street returned yesterday afternoon from a visit in Philadelphia, where they went to attend the Army and Navy football game.

Mr. and Mrs. J. W. Snoddy of Ashland, Ky., announce the birth of a daughter last Friday evening. The proud parents are former residents of this city.

Anthony Thompson Drops Dead

Suffering an attack of heart disease as he was leaving his home, just east of the C. & O. depot at South Portsmouth shortly after four o'clock Monday afternoon, Anthony Thompson, a well known lumber dealer and aged citizen of that place, dropped in his tracks and succumbed before others who saw him fall could reach his side.

The aged man had started to a neighbor's to get a sack of corn and had proceeded but 200 feet from his home when he was stricken. He was 78 years of age and had lived alone for several years. He was a splendid citizen and was well known in Portsmouth.

He is survived by one son, Anthony, Jr., of Catlettsburg, and pending his arrival no arrangements have been made for the funeral.

Mr. Thompson for years operated a lumber office on Front street west of Jefferson, and he was well known in the West End, where he leaves many staunch friends.

WHEN YOU CATCH COLD RUB ON MUSTEROLE

Musterole is easy to apply and it fits in its small round right away. Often it prevents a cold from turning into "flu" or pneumonia. Just apply Musterole with the fingers. It does all the good work of grandmother's mustard plaster without the blister.

Musterole is a clean white ointment made of oil of mustard and other simple ingredients. It is recommended by many doctors and nurses. Try Musterole for sore throat, cold on the chest, rheumatism, lamboago, pleurisy, stiff neck, bronchitis, asthma, neuralgia, congestion, pains and aches of the back and joints, sore muscles, bruises, chilblains, frost-bitten feet—colds of all sorts. Seldom fails to deliver results. See and see. Jars and tubes, hospital size, $2.00.

DEADLY MENACE

A noted physician gave this advice to his patients: "Never neglect the slightest cold." The cold germ is a deadly menace to human life. Pneumonia, influenza, pleurisy and other serious sickness may result from a common cold. Rid the system of the noxious poisons that clog the lower air passages by taking a hot cupful of Bulgarian Herb Tea. Hot medicinal tea increases the circulation, stimulates the liver, flushes the bowels and helps to break up a cold quickly. Bulgarian Herb Tea is sold by druggists everywhere.—Advertisement.

"ALMOST CHOKED LAST NIGHT"

"Was around my heart. Couldn't breathe," many people say. No such choking or anxiety if you will take Baumann's Gas Tablets. These are prepared especially for stomach gas and particularly for all the bad effects from gas pressure against your most vital organ—your lungs.

That empty, gone and gnawing feeling at the pit of your stomach will disappear; that anxious, nervous feeling, with heart palpitation, will vanish, and you will once more be able to take a deep breath, so often prevented by gas pressing against your lungs.

These unique tablets are sold by Baumann and Streich (Pharm.) Be sure to insist upon the genuine Baumann's Gas Tablets in the yellow package, seven cent dollar. J. L. Baumann, Chemist, San Francisco.—Advertisement.

WILLIAMSON WILL GET NEW HOTEL

WILLIAMSON, W. Va., Nov. 28.—(By The United Press)—Announcement has been made by the chamber of commerce that all obstacles in the way of Williamson having a modern hotel have been swept aside and the long-awaited project is soon to be realized. The new hotel will be built by C. F. Vaughan, proprietor of the Vaughan hotel, on his property near the court house. The lot is at present occupied by the old hotel annex and a church building. The new structure will have approximately 125 rooms and will be of the latest design and construction. The cost is to be approximately $200,000.

BLACK-DRAUGHT OVER 30 YEARS

"Saved Me Many a Sick Spell," Says Texas Farmer, Who Has Long Known Usefulness of Black-Draught.

Naples, Texas.—"I have used Thied's Black-Draught for years—I can safely say for more than 30 years," declares Mr. J. J. Cromer, a substantial, well-known farmer, residing on Route 3 from here.

"I am 43 years old, and when a small boy I had indigestion and was puffy and my folks gave me a liver regulator. Then Black-Draught was advertised and we heard of it.

"I began to take Black-Draught, and have used it, when needed, ever since. I use Black-Draught now in my home, and certainly recommend it for any liver trouble.

"I have given it a thorough trial and after thirty years can say Black-Draught is my stand-by. It has saved me many sick spells. Mr. Cromer writes that he is "never out of Black-Draught," and says several of his neighbors prefer it to any other liver medicine. "I always recommend Black-Draught to my friends," he adds.

This valuable, old, powdered liver medicine is prepared from medicinal roots and herbs, and has none of the bad effects so often observed from the use of calomel, or other powerful purgatives. Black-Draught helps to keep the liver in trim, helping prevent or relieve such troubles as constipation, biliousness, indigestion, sick headache. Be sure to get the genuine—advertisement.

WHERE THERE ARE BOTH Profit And Safety

Twenty-eight years is rather a remarkable age considering the average business life, it is longer still for institutions to operate for that period and never suffer a loss, keeping unfailingly every promise to patrons and growing bigger and stronger with each day.

That is the record of this company. Founded in 1895 it has widened its influence and benefits safely and continuously, until now its resources have gone far beyond a million, within a few thousand of an additional half million.

This hasn't been done by any false promise of fabulous gains, but by laying down the assurance of a return on investment absolutely certain, altogether honest.

In other words we have conducted a legitimate business, assuring to patrons legitimate profit; that is to say we anchored to the sheet rock of all honorable business, safety first and fair profit.

Once in a while, in the far scattered instance, some enterprise will pay enormous dividends, for a time, but the year comes when it gets down to the normal or it quits.

We have with us today thousands of investors. They are all satisfied because they have never failed to get just what they expected. They wisely prefer known and established security, offering a substantial dividend, to unsound expectations of immense returns that do not materialize and besides so often take the entire investment along with them.

Every year, we know, our own citizens lose money they put in outside undertakings, under the lure of fabulous dividends promised. We regret that and it fixes more and more our original purpose, if such be possible, to conduct a business where our patrons can not lose as long as things hold together, a purpose that in twenty-eight years of actual practice has written the unrivaled tribute to our business that it has not lost a single dollar.

Just remember this: A building association such as is our's pays no fancy salaries to officers and directors, it operates on the least margin of profit, all its profits, except a small sum, which is put aside "to make assurance doubly sure"—to provide against an unavoidable loss that no human intelligence can forecast, go to the person who put their money with the association.

Jonquille, greatest of French detectives, tells this story of the criminal at bay—brought to the grasp of the law by an illness which paralyzed the lower part of his body, and finally seized by Jonquille when a mysterious message from a woman placed the criminal's hiding place in a luxurious English country house.

Jonquille laughed cynically when the criminal arrived. The man had telephoned at his direction. He knew he was about to die, and he wanted to tell his story. He met this girl in America, at Harbor, and saw that the dissipated fishman, WESTRIDGE, was trying to marry her for her money. Jonquille's sense of decency was roused.

Go on With the Story

CHAPTER II

The invalid criminal lifted himself on his great hands and turned whole of his body toward me. I told him, "You're a little piker; line the chair in his great hands, 'the' began to get my goat. Her father, a lawyer in the South, was dead. She had only the old Boston undertaker. (I heard the talk of the woman) and the coin was this: 'Carrots'—your little English played in form, every point of the fashionable church just across the library.

"I stepped up inside the door," he paused, and his voice changed its former note.

"You see I had to have a little on this job. It had a big, loose I went in and sat down in a pew.

It was dim and quiet and I got right down to business. I didn't run in any of the prayer-book curtain-raiders. I put the thing right up to the boss.

"Now, look here, Governor," I said, "has a helpless little girl got a pull with you, or is it bunk? Because I'm agoin' to call you, and if the line your barker is putting out is on the level, you're got to come across with the goods. If there's nothing to it, the Government ought to shut 'em up on a fraud order—I'm agoin' to carry one and of this thing; get busy at the other end."

"Then I went out."

"That night I went over to see little Westridge."

"He was surprised to see me—didn't understand it; he'd never met me in the social line."

"He was mighty formal, as you'd say, but he didn't throw any stuttering into Alibi Al. I got down, just as if the place belonged to me, and I waved a hand at him. I said to myself, 'You're a little piker; line up and take what's coming to you.'"

"But what I said out loud was like this:

"'Carrots has got a little bunch of stuff that's goin' to his wiped out if it ain't covered.'"

"That was her nickname among the youngsters, because her blue-black hair in the sun had a heavenly copper glint."

He looked mixed up. "What, precisely, do you mean?" he says.

"I didn't pay any attention to him. I went on just as if he hadn't said a word."

"Women's got no sense about business—she's agoin' to lose it."

"Come what?" he says.

"Not the tip way they bring girls up," I says, "the same as if he hadn't spoke. 'Here's this steel bunch bending the stuff down; her broker wires for somethin' to cover it, and she sticks the telegram up against the lookin'-glass so she'll remember to write to him next week—can you beat it?'"

"I saw everything that was goin' through him, same as if you'd rolled

Chef Had Plenty But He Could Hardly Eat

Even an expert chef for an up-to-date restaurant, with everything heart could wish in the eating line and the skill to prepare it in the most appetizing manner, finds life miserable and work a burden with his appetite gone and his health all broken up on account of stomach trouble.

According to his own statement, such had been the case for two years, with William Lackey, 865 North Wells St., Chicago, Ill., chef at a popular North Clark St. restaurant, who says he recently found relief by taking Tanlac.

Mr. Lackey now boasts of a "wonderful appetite and a stomach that digests such things as ham and eggs, corned beef and cabbage and rich pastries, 'foods that would have almost put me out of commission before I took Tanlac.'"

"Before I ran across this medicine," said he, "I was having to lay off from my work for a week at a time just on account of the numerous ills I suffered from indigestion. But when I tell you I have gained fifteen pounds, eat and digest anything and am on the job every day feeling fine you may know how I appreciate Tanlac."

Tanlac is sold by all good druggists.—Advertisement.

it out on the picture-reel.

"The old friend, no manners, darn the difference" stuff, had hooked him. And there were two other hooks: this girl had some property that he didn't know of, and the friends of the family, like me, was a-coming to him about it.

"He set up now pleasant as you please."

"Ah—er, yes," he says; "I hadn't got the name I was playing under."

"I belted at him, and he might have jumped."

"Johnson," I said, "Alonzo Johnson, Kansas City?"

"Quite so, Mr. Johnson," he says, "quick, same as you'd apologize, 'thurs' some business affair to discuss, I fancy?"

"He fell right in with the line of dope mighty easy and comfortable. You see it was something like the way they do things up in his country. The old uncle or the family lawyer calls on you, when ma thinks that things are pretty well understood with the young people, and gets down to fingerin'."

"It was near enough to my line to go across with him. He knew that the girl hadn't got any money, so an old friend of the family would fit the form as a sort of next-of-kin, as the law-books say."

The big man linked his fingers together on the chair-arm.

"As I was sayin', he walked right in and made himself at home with the notion. He called her 'Carrots' straight back at me; it was, 'Kiss her' pap; she's our'n now, and he began to grin.

"He bounced up and got a box of cigars, and a little dish full of matches and shoved them across the table. I took one, bit the end off, scratched the match on my foot, lighted it, and went ahead.

"It's the butt-end of what she's got," I says, "an' it's in the door."

"He knew all about business, and he picked the things right out."

"You mean," he says, "that her solicitor has invested her fortune in a stock on margin and the market is declining?"

"You got it," I says, "only she done it herself, o' some tip from her swell friends."

"How extraordinary!" he piped; "his voice got thin when it hit money. 'Is it a legitimate stock?'"

"Sure," I answered, "one of the six good ones. I didn't know how many good ones there was."

"Why does it decline?" His voice went up like a singing-school.

"The steel bunch are clubbing it!" I says.

"He understood that, and began to finger around his little wax mustache."

"Quite so," he cheeped, "quite so. Then he squared forward me."

"Ah—er, Mr. Johnson," he says, "I fancy you came with some plan about it."

"Plan nothin'," I says; "the stuff's got to be covered—they'll git it beat under her finger in another day's poundin'."

"Ah—er—quite so," he was cool as a julep; "you are intending, I fancy, to cover the margin?"

"BIG MONEY!" I GURGLED IT. LIKE A MAN CHOKING ON A LAUGH.

"I leaned over the table and blew a mouthful of smoke on him."

"Sure!" I roared in his face. "If I can get fifty thousand dollars quick!"

"He ducked out of the smoke."

"That's a very large sum 'of money," he says.

"I jolled over the table and smoked on him like a Dutch uncle."

"Big money!" I gurgled it, like a man choking on a laugh. "Do you know how much Carrots has got hanging on it?"

"He didn't answer that; I knew he wouldn't."

"Where, precisely, do you expect to get this money?" he says.

"I set up more cutn-like at that."

"Well," I says, "I thought maybe we could rask it together."

"He wanted that fake fortune saved for him, so it would come along with the girl, but he wanted somebody else to carry the chance."

"I knew it, and I smoked on him. I hung over the table and puffed it in his face. He tried to duck out of it, and I followed him around. It done me good—I couldn't spit on the little tightwad."

"Now, look here, Mr. Westridge," I says, "don't you git a wrong notion in your head: I'm not agoin' to let you take any risk on this. I'm agoin' to take the risk; there ain't none. In fact, the stuff's got to bounce back. I'll go to the sky when the steel bunch get all they can grab of it. But whatever risk there may be, I sputtered it out on him, 'is mine. I'll put up the bucking an' you git me the money by tomorrow at noon. I was nearly across the table, an' I didn't wait for him to cut in with a question. I took a big envelope out of my pocket and flashed the stuff on him. He came up with a chirp."

"My word!" he says, "where did you get this?"

"Well," I answered, "London's a big selling-point with us—you can't trade with the English and not take their stuff, can you. The Johnny whose name's on that stuff put it up with me. There's fourteen of them. Ain't they good for fifty thousand?"

"He spread the certificates out on the table and ran his fingers over them. It was old-fashioned horse-tailin'."

"Oh!" his voice flickered up, "hey-yeon question?"

"None," I says, "Keep it until I come back with your money—and get me the cash before noon tomorrow."

"Don't you want a memorandum?" he says.

"I waved my hand, careless, like it was nothin'."

"That's all right," I says; "don't want any promises about that, that there is a thing that I do want a promise about."

"I threw my cigar in the fireplace and set down."

"I want you to promise me that you won't ever say anything to Carrots about this, nor to anybody; it's between us—she's a high-strung youngster," I added; "this thing's got to be buried with us, no matter what happens. Is it a trade?"

"I saw everything that was goin' through him, same as if you'd rolled

Marsh Bros.' old frame building has been razed and work will start at once on the new brick and concrete structure which is to be ready for occupancy early in January. The building will have a frontage of 28 feet and will be 100 feet deep.

Eagles To Give Masquerade Ball

The Eagles have completed arrangements for the masquerade ball which will be held in their hall at Court and Second streets Thanksgiving eve. The Peerless Four Orchestra will furnish the music, and from all indications the affair will be a huge success.

The local Aerje has also completed plans for the launching of a membership drive early in December in cooperation with the national campaign now under way for a million new members. Over a half million have already been secured and Ohio is leading all other states in this respect.

GROUP GAME AT 2 A. M.

It was a sudden, violent attack, without warning. Hard to get a doctor, when minutes counted for so much. The mother gave a few drops of Dr. Drake's Glascoc, and relief was almost instantaneous, without vomiting. Dr. Drake's Glascoc has been in use for 25 years, and is recognized as the favorite remedy for croup, whooping cough and children's colds. Ask your doctor or your druggist what he thinks of it. Witness Says Mrs. Ben Ragsdale Shot Self; Dies; Husband Is Shot In Leg

The Huntington Herald-Dispatch of local interest Tuesday said:

Mrs. Corinne Ragsdale, wife of Ben P. Ragsdale, former professional ball player, committed suicide, according to a statement made last night by Miss Nan Chambers, 425 Seventh avenue, a member of the dinner-party at the Ragsdale residence in Catlettsburg, Sunday night which ended in the death of the hostess followed by the attempted suicide with another pistol of the host.

Miss Chambers was located at her home in this city last night following a statement made by Ragsdale, after surgeons had removed a .25 calibre bullet from his left leg, identifying Miss Chambers and Andrew Northcott as the two persons who left the Ragsdale residence immediately after Mrs. Ragsdale was shot.

Miss Chambers denied that there was any discussion of revolvers preceding the shooting. The little party of four, all intimate friends, had gathered in the kitchen of the Ragsdale residence to prepare a supper, and it was into the midst of the culinary operation of cooking potatoes and meat that the tragedy intended according to Miss Chambers.

Mrs. Ragsdale was cooking dinner in the kitchen, and we were all in the room with her," said Miss Chambers. "There had been no quarreling of any sort."

"In the midst of the cooking Mrs. Ragsdale turned around and walked out of the room. She did not say anything, or give a hint of her purpose. She went through the dining room and upstairs. The steps lead up from the dining room."

"In a moment she came down. She was carrying a revolver. Without saying a word to any of us, she walked into the dining room. It was there that she quickly raised the revolver to her head and pulled the trigger. We left right after Mrs. Ragsdale shot herself. We got into Mr. Northcott's car and drove to Huntington. Then we went on up to his farm on the Ohio river road."

"I didn't know until today that Mr. Ragsdale was shot later."

Northcott was reached late last night at the farm on the Ohio River road of his father, District Attorney Elliot Northcott, and he verified the statement made by Miss Chambers, adding minor details.

Miss Chambers and I were in the kitchen with Mrs. Ragsdale, and "Rags" was sitting in a chair in the doorway between the kitchen and the dining room," he said.

"There was no hint of any such intention when Mrs. Ragsdale silently left the kitchen, went upstairs, returned to the dining room carrying the revolver, and shot herself. She said nothing either just before leaving or upon returning. It was all over in a moment."

Another description of the affair was given by Ray Wellman, who lives across the street from the Ragsdales, and was expecting his wife, the first person to reach the Ragsdale residence following the departure of Northcott and Miss Chambers. It is stated Wellman is a close acquaintance of Ragsdale, and it was to him that Ragsdale called, asking that Dr.

L. M. Prichard be summoned. Wellman told his wife to go at once to their neighbor while he delayed to call the physician.

Mrs. Wellman said that she found Ragsdale sitting on the floor, hugging the yet living body of his wife to him and nursing in his arms her bleeding head. Ragsdale seemed frantic with grief, she said. Mrs. Wellman said she waited until her husband arrived, and the two of them laid the unconscious Mrs. Ragsdale on aavenport and forced Ragsdale to sit apart in a chair. While they were waiting for the physician to arrive, Ragsdale tried to get his wife to speak to him.

Dr. Prichard, after making an examination, admitted that Mrs. Ragsdale's life was but a matter of minutes. At the statement, according to Wellman, Ragsdale cried out: "Then that's all I want to hear! I'm going too!" and wrenched at a pistol in his pocket. It was a .25 calibre automatic and as the crazed husband jerked it from his pocket, it was discharged. The bullet tore through his hip and reentered the flesh in his lower leg, lodging below the knee. Undamned according to Wellman, Ragsdale, after the unexpected shock of the wound, attempted to raise the weapon to his head, but his friend tore it from his grasp.

Mrs. Ragsdale was shot about 9:30 o'clock Sunday evening. She died at 3:15 o'clock yesterday morning.

Dr. H. S. Swope, Boyd county coroner, of Ashland, said last night that he had received no word of the affair until he saw accounts of Mrs. Ragsdale's death in afternoon newspapers.

"I immediately called the Kilgore-Collier undertaking establishment," said the coroner, "and I was told that they had the body and that Mrs. Ragsdale's death was accidental, as they had been given to understand it."

"I have not been able to get in communication with either of the other two people said to have been eye witnesses of the shooting."

"While it appears from all statements made to me that Mrs. Ragsdale's death was the result of an accident, I will make an investigation in the morning."

"Mrs. Ragsdale wore high-heeled shoes," Ragsdale is said to have related, "and as she neared the bottom of the steps, she stumbled and fell, throwing up her arm to protect herself. As she did this, the gun discharged, and the bullet entered her head."

Ragsdale was taken to the Kings' Daughters' hospital, in Ashland, yesterday afternoon and the bullet in his leg was removed.

Ragsdale formerly caught for the Ohio State league team here and is well known in Portsmouth, where he spent several years.

SOCIETY

The pupils of St. Mary's High School have prepared a very entertaining program for Thanksgiving evening. Two clever playlets entitled "The Step-Sisters" and "Mechanical Jane" will be given and various readings and choruses, while a considerable part of the program will consist of selections rendered by the high school orchestra. An opportunity for an hour's hearty laughter is assured. Tickets may be purchased of any pupil of the school and will be reserved by them or at Brandon's Book Store.

Mrs. Robert Kincheloe of Georgetown is the guest this week of Mrs. E. E. Haquard of Gallia avenue.

The Board of Sunday School Directors of Trinity church will meet at the parsonage tonight, instead of at the church. All officers and teachers are urged to attend.

Mr. C. H. Whitehouse of Columbus, Indiana, who is interested in the Whitmer Medicine Company of this city, is visiting at the home of Mr. and Mrs. W. L. Liston of 709 Second street.

Members of the Women's City Club held a very interesting meeting Monday afternoon at the home of Mrs. Robert G. Bryan, Sixth and Washington streets.

Mrs. Cornelia Trenthart presided at the meeting. During the business session, the various committees gave their reports. The tree committee reported that all arrangements have been made for trees to be planted along the Scioto Trail, between Portsmouth and Lucasville. The society advocates the planting of trees along the Trail as far as Lucasville with the hopes that other societies continue the work from Lucasville to Columbus.

The committee on the protection of birds in the Game Preserve also made their report.

In introduction to the talk given by Rev. John Collins Jackson, D. D., Mrs. Trenthart said: "The winning of the ballot was a long, long trail on the pathway of civilization. A few brave leaders championed our cause and when our friends were few, Rev. John Collins Jackson was one of these leaders. I marched in the same parade with him in 1912 in Columbus. In 1906 he spoke for the cause publicly, and I know I voice the sentiment of the Women's City Club, when I say: "We are all delighted to do him honor."

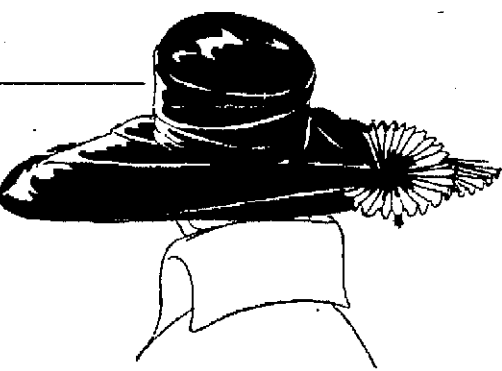

In Dr. Jackson's address, he recited the poem by Joyce Kilmer, "Tribute To A Tree," and was followed by the

Market News

NEW YORK STOCKS

NEW YORK, Nov. 28.—Stock prices showed a much better tone at the opening of today's market, short covering operations being apparent throughout the list. United States Steel common, selling ex-dividend, more than made up its dividend at the opening but reacted one point in later dealings. Oils moved into higher ground under the leadership of standard oil shares, New Jersey leading up 4 1/2 points and California 1, California Petroleum moved up 3 1/2 and Pan-American A and B, also. The rail shares, Louisville and Nashville rising 2 1/2, New York Central 1 1/2, Norfolk and Western and Texas and Pacific one each, Atchafalaya, Reading, New Haven, Northern Pacific, B. and O., Chesapeake and Ohio, substantial fractions. Baldwin, Studebaker, American Locomotive and Corn Products also gained a point or more. Eggert and Myers jumped ten points. Foreign exchanges opened irregular.

The opening rally was well sustained during the morning, the lower renewal rate on call money aiding operations on the long side. Speculative belief that the current reaction had temporarily run its course, at least in a number of shares, was reflected in the resumption of pool operations in some of the low priced oils and other industrial stocks. Virtually all divisions of the industrial list except the independent steels, participated extensively in the upward movement with the advance most marked in oils, foods, tobaccos, equipments, motors, leathers, and United States Steel common. Ralls also responded to better buying power, New York Central, Illinois Central and Missouri Pacific preferred each rising 2 points. Some of the other strong spots were California Petroleum, Manhattan Electrical Supply, Mexican Petroleum, Channell, Strom, Texas Corporation, American Tobacco, and Tidewater Oil, the gains ranging from 3 to 4 points. Call money opened at 4 1/2 per cent.

Readjustment of an extended short position and renewed activities by a pool started speculation on the long side in today's stock market. Lower rates for all monetary accommodations and the publication of favorable earnings reports by industrial companies stimulated these, which ranged from one to five points in active stocks. Sales approximately 575,000 shares.

The closing was strong.

Chicago Grain And Provision

CHICAGO, Nov. 28.—Wheat buying on the part of houses with foreign connections led to a material upturn here in prices today during the early dealings. The fact that Liverpool quotations were unresponsive to declines yesterday on this side of the Atlantic was an additional stimulating factor and so too was an outspoken bullish opinion from the president of one of the largest grain companies here. Besides there was more or less demand based on the circumstance that this was a traditional calendar date on which to buy wheat. The opening which ranged from 1/2 to 1 1/4 higher with May 1 1/4 to 1 1/4 and July 1 1/4 to 1 1/4 was followed by material further gains.

Corn and oats moved up with wheat. After opening 1 1/2 to 1 3/4 higher with May 60 to 60 1/2 the corn market continued to strengthen.

The close was strong, 1 1/2 to 2 1/2 net higher with May 1 1/2 to 1 1/2 and July 1 1/2 to 1 1/2.

Oats started a shade off to 3/4 @ 1/2 higher May 42 and later scored a moderate general advance.

Provisions were firmer in line with hogs and grain.

The close was firm 1 1/2 to 1 1/4 with May 70 1/2 to 70 1/4.

Points Firearms; Is Fined $100

In municipal court this afternoon, Jack Nolan, aged 25, was found guilty of pointing firearms at C. H. Chase, and was fined $100 by Judge McCall. Bond in the sum of $200 was given for a stay of execution until Attorney Bannan and Bannan can take steps to carry the case to the Common Pleas court on error. The incident occurred on November 6th last when Chase and Nolan met at Seventh and Chillicothe street. Chase claiming that Nolan drew a gun and pointed it at him after they had exchanged some words.

Elks Will Honor Dead Next Sunday

Plans are going forward rapidly for the annual lodge of sorrow of the Portsmouth Lodge of B. P. O. Elks, which is always an impressive affair, and will be held in the Elks' Club next Sunday at 2:30 p. m. During the past year three members passed away: Roy C. Lynn, John W. Jannan, of this city, and Frank Morris, of Chicago. At the memorial exercises John Jones will eulogize the memory of Mr. Lynn; Judge James S. Thomas, Mr. Jannan, and W. W. Weldner, Mr. Morris. A splendid musical program is also being arranged for the solemn occasion.

SOCIETY

Miss Georgia Padon of Offshore street entered Mercy Hospital Monday afternoon for treatment. Miss Padon has been ill for several months.

A charity ball, to be sponsored by the local lodge of Elks, will be given in their club rooms on Thursday evening, December 12th. The committee in charge hopes to make this dance one of the largest and best affairs of its kind ever given in the city.

Mr. and Mrs. Charles Baskett of Pittsburgh are spending a few weeks with their relatives in this city.

Arthur Rosenthal, who graduated with high honors from the Portsmouth High School last June, and has since been holding a responsible position in the offices of the N. & W., has resigned his position and will in the future be associated in business with his father, S. Rosenthal, corner of Eighth and Chillicothe streets. Young Mr. Rosenthal is a very promising young man and his pleasing personality will add to the popularity of this well known establishment.

Mrs. Harry Johnson and Mrs. Harry Smith have also taken clerical positions in the Rosenthal store.

The recital to be given by Miss Helen Ross, under the auspices of Mrs. J. P. Smith's Sunday School class of Trinity church will be held on Tuesday evening, December 5th, instead of tonight, as previously announced.

WORNOUT AFTER SHE COOKED A MEAL

Took Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound. Read the Result.

Cincinnati, Ohio.—"I suffered for years with nervous troubles and irregularities before I took Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound. My back ached all the time and I was unfit for housework. I was worn out if I cooked a meal, and was unable to do my washing. My girl friends and my sister told me if I would take your Vegetable Compound and Liver Pills I would be relieved. After taking the first bottle I felt better, and neglected it awhile, but found I could not do my work until I was stronger. So I took the Vegetable Compound again and now I am the mother of a 19 months old boy. He is fat and healthy and I am sure I could never have carried him if it had not been for your medicine. I recommend your medicine to all women although I am young to be advising some one older."

—Mrs. Conner, Fennock, 318 W. Liberty St., Cincinnati, Ohio.

Mary MacSwiney Freed; Meets Sister In Hospital

DUBLIN, November 28.—(By the Associated Press)—Miss Mary MacSwiney, who was released from Mount Joy prison yesterday, the twenty-third day of her hunger strike, met her sister Annie in a private hospital in this city last evening. Annie, weakened by several days of fasting outside the prison gates, collapsed when she saw her sister, but quickly recovered and was taken to another hospital on a stretcher. The order for Mary MacSwiney's release was issued by the provisional government to the military authorities who acted promptly and she was removed in a Red Cross ambulance.

Mr. and Mrs. E. L. Hiatt, Soloto Trail, will have as Thanksgiving guests the latter's parents, Mr. and Mrs. E. E. Swisher and daughter, Virginia June, of Ripley, O., and son, George H. Swisher, of Columbus, O.

Gene Lloyd is the name given the son born recently to Mr. and Mrs. E. L. Hiatt. Mr. Hiatt is the well-known claim clerk for the N. & W.

Mr. Edgar F. Draper, who has been ill for some time, was removed to Mercy Hospital Monday afternoon, where he will take a course of treatment.

The Ladies' Auxiliary to the Italian Conductors will hold a bake sale tomorrow morning at Stewart's grocery corner Vinton avenue and Young streets. Ladies are asked to get their donations there as early as possible.

Wm. Franco of Walnut street leaves this week to visit his mother in Chillicothe.

Mr. and Mrs. A. L. Jackson of Oak Hill are visiting friends in this city.

Dr. M. C. Pirrung has returned to his home in Cincinnati after a visit with his parents, Mr. and Mrs. John S. Pirrung, of Fifth street.

Captains To Meet

There will be a meeting of the captains of the City Bowling League Wednesday evening at 7 p. m. at the Play House. President Delamater desires to have every captain at this meeting.

May Be Headed This Way

Policies here were notified this afternoon to be on the look out for auto bandits, who this morning killed one Columbus policeman and seriously wounded another following a gun battle staged near West Jefferson, Ohio.

P. D.'s Fined—William "Yank" Robinson, Robert Mosier and Ben Guthrie, plain drunks gathered in by the police during the night were fined $11.20 each by Judge McCall Tuesday afternoon.

Hearing Continued—Ida Davis, Edna Davis, Ernest Taylor and Annie Bradford arrested by the police at 2:30 o'clock this morning at the Davis home Eleventh and Union streets, where a house party was in progress pleaded no guilty to charges of disorderly conduct when arraigned before Municipal Judge Stanley McCall this afternoon. Their hearing was continued until Wednesday afternoon. Lizzie Derrison and Frank Holt also caught in the raid on the house and charged with disorderly conduct failed to appear and their bonds of $15 each were declared forfeited.

Schools To Close

As usual the public schools will close Wednesday afternoon till next Monday morning, this being the annual Thanksgiving vacation.

Stricken Blind

WELLSTON, Nov. 28.—Elmer Palmer, 25, was stricken with blindness last night along the pike when he was returning home from church meeting at Flatbush No. 2. His eyes had not been strong for some time.

Is Much Better

Myers Fined

Robert Myers arrested by the police Monday night for driving around a street car which was stopped at a corner was fined $5 and costs in Municipal court Tuesday afternoon when found guilty of violating a traffic rule.

Auto Goes Into Ditch

A new Chevrolet touring car driven by J. A. Burke clerk in the machine shop at the N. and W. terminals was damaged Sunday night when it left the paved road and went into a deep ditch near City View, West Side. The accident occurred in front of the former Marion Poole home. The machine turned over on its side but the occupants escaped injury. Winder's auto-wrecker was called to get the machine back to the road. Burke rooms at 314 Third street.

Mrs. Hans Painfully Burned

Mrs. Charles Hais of 312 Offshore street suffered a badly burned left arm and slight burns about the face this morning about 9:30 o'clock while she was working in the kitchen of the First Evangelical Sunday school. She opened the oven door to place a pan in it and when she let down the door a sheet of flames leaped out and burned her about the face and arm. Her hair was also singed. Dr. A. R. Moore was called and he took Mrs. Hans home in his car.

Auto Hits Telephone Pole

An automobile driven by W. B. Atchison of Huntington was badly damaged Monday night when it skidded off the road near Wakefield and struck a telephone pole. The right wheel, fender and light were smashed. Atchison, who was on his way to Columbus accompanied by his family was not injured.

Charges Packers Artificially Raised Price Of Turkeys

BOSTON, November 28.—(By the Associated Press)—To protect the public against further raises, he said, Mayor Curley today addressed to Attorney General Daugherty a complaint that the price of turkeys for Thanksgiving Day dinner had been artificially advanced. An investigation by the superintendent of markets and the health commissioner of the city, he wrote, had disclosed that a shortage of turkeys was made to appear with the result that retail prices were set at 60 cents a pound for cold storage birds and 80 cents a pound for fresh killed northern turkeys. He charged that the price was set by the "so-called big five western packers" and said that the price of corn was 30 per cent lower than last year.

Not So Well

Joseph Falvey, who is ill at his home on Third street, was not so well Tuesday.

PENNSBORO—Hert Bradford had his face and neck filled with bird shot when a rabbit hunter discharged a gun in his direction just as he reached the brow of a hill.

RIPLEY—Construction of a new highway here was held up where the road crosses a cemetery. Twenty-seven bodies were disinterred from the Otterbein cemetery, reinterred and then the road construction continued.

CHARLESTON—Organization of the Charleston Post of the Society of American Military Engineers has been completed.

DE VALERA' IN HIDING NAMES NEW CABINET

DUBLIN, November 28.—(By the United Press)—Eamon DeValera today from his hiding place defied the free state by naming a "new Irish Republican government" of his own. The "rebel cabinet" most of whose members are in jail, includes: President and Minister of Foreign Affairs DeValera, Minister of Finance—Stack, Home Secretary—J. P. Ruffledge, Minister of Defense—Lynn Mel-lows, Minister of Local Government—S. O'Kelly, Minister of Economics—Robert Barton. With the announcement of the cabinet presaging in the opinion of some quarters here a renewed offensive by the rebel troops, renewed drastic efforts to get DeValera are being made by the state troops. The Irish Republican president may be executed, if captured. This was indicated by President Cosgrave of the Dail. "Executions will not cease until the rebels have surrendered their arms," was Cosgrave's ultimatum. There can be no exceptions made in inflicting death penalty for men carrying arms.

WHEELING—John Ragowalt, greaser, was fined $20 and costs by Police Judge Ritz for maintaining an unsanitary refrigerator and a generally unsanitary condition at his place of business.

JUST AS I STEPPED OUT

Of the door last evening a married man stopped his Bodge touring and asked me what I meant by writing ads like I had in the Times. He proceeded to tell me that it was making the women suspicious and the old excuses of "business" and "lodge" didn't go and I ought to cut it out. He told me lots of other things too but I can't write them, but I should worry—I'm for the women and judging from the sales on these new patent and satin sandals, the women know a thing or two about style at the popular price of six and a half. Just then a lady passed and he drove away—and she's married too.

P. H. S. WILL CLOSE SUCCESSFUL SEASON WITH AQUINAS HI TEAM ON THANKSGIVING DAY

Teams Clash On Sixteenth Street

Portsmouth football fans will get to glimpse a real gridiron battle Thursday afternoon when the P. H. S. clash with the Aquinas high school eleven of Columbus. The Red and Blue lads realize that this will be their second hardest game of the year, the other big opponent being the Ceredo-Kenova eleven.

Aquinas high has not been defeated this season. The school is represented by a heavy and fast team and one that will give the local warriors no end of trouble. The backfield and line contain plenty of weight to hold any line plunging team and that means their opponents have to resort to something else besides bucking the line. P. H. S. has watched the Aquinas team in action and knows full well just what kind of opposition will be offered by the visitors. P. H. S. is ready for any attack the Aquinas lads may launch and when they are on the offense will endeavor to open surprise boxes that will set the visitors back a few yards each time.

Acting Captain "Peggy" Ellsesser is rounding into shape, the blow on his head leaving him dizzy for a day or so. He will be back into the fray Thursday and his presence in the game means a whole lot to the team. All the regulars will be out there fighting for their best for they mean to make a good showing against the big Columbus eleven, despite all adverse reports that the team is one of those unbeatable kind. Athens had a wonderful team, but they did not show anything against the locals last Saturday and the Red and Blue lads are expecting to make the Aquinas team take on the same color after this Turkey Day's game.

The game will be called at 2:30 sharp, and a large staff of ticket sellers will be busy circulating through the crowd to collect the fifty cent pieces to be charged all those who do not possess season tickets.

EDDIE'S FRIENDS

Great Rivalry In State-Illinois Games

Says the Columbus Dispatch: "You cannot beat an Illinois-Ohio State game for the spectacular. It would be rather tough to discard this final meeting of the Illini with the Scarlet and Gray for a new alliance when one really thinks it over."

The spirit of these games is wonderful in intensity and yet in sportsmanship. The games, also, have furnished such annual thrills that they should be continued. It is rather unusual by way of side comment, too, that the star-at-homes rarely see a victory for their eleven in these conflicts. Not since 1918 has either team accomplished an at home victory. Nearly all of their recent games, besides, have turned on some daring last-quarter play. It would not seem quite right to march down city anywhere else after the victory than at Urbana. "Tubby" and his musicians last Saturday knew just where to make the break for the street and the happy throng was a picture indeed as it swung into musical and cheering action. It was all so graciously done, too, and with such real enthusiasm that Illinois folks didn't even show a sign of resentment.

The Hills of West Virginia are playing a prominent part in the success of the Mountaineers on the gridiron. Pierre Hill, at end, has made a fine showing in every game that he has gotten into.

Graduation To Hit Wesleyan And Denison

GRANVILLE, O., Nov. 28.—Graduation is to hit the Wesleyan and Denison lines hardest. From the lot of forwards at gleeful Delaware will go Captain Olin Smith, Center, Banger and Guard McCracken. Granville departures will be both the Hills boys and the crack ends, Jefferson and Leane. From other classes there probably will be some breaks in the ranks, but there is rather a creditable lot of talent coming up from the freshman classes.

ROY GORDON IN NEW FISKE PLAY

Mrs. Minnie Madden Fiske, one of the most gifted actresses on the American stage, put on her new play for the first time last night in Rochester, N. Y. In her cast is none other than Roy C. Gordon, of this city, and who has been assigned one of the leading roles. That he will make good, goes without saying as he is a finished actor.

Coach Yost To Continue On Job

ANN ARBOR, MICH., Nov. 28.—Coach Yost, who has made perhaps the best showing of his career with the Michigan football eleven this year, denies that he will not coach the Wolverines next year. Stories of the coming departure of the "grand old man" of Wolverine football from the game have been flying about ever since this year's team showed class.

"I have been saying for some time that I am going to quit when I can get a coaching crew here that can handle the situation," said Yost. "That may be today, tomorrow or two years from now. I have plenty of work to do in the athletic office and when I'm satisfied Michigan's coaching staff is ready I'll leave the active work."

Elect Kipke To Lead Michigan

ANN ARBOR, Mich., Nov. 28.—Harry G. Kipke of Lansing, Mich., star halfback of the Michigan varsity football eleven was elected Captain of the 1923 squad at a meeting of the "M" men today.

Kipke, one of the best halfbacks Michigan has produced has one more year to play.

To Play Ashland

The girls' basketball team of Glenwood high school, New Boston, will play their first basketball game of the season Thursday when they journey to Ashland to play the championship high school five representing that school. The Ashland Kittens, who made a very good record the past two seasons by defeating nearly every opponent, will have a hard battle for the New Boston girls have practically the same team as last year.

BILLY EVANS' WEEKLY BOXING LETTER

DANCHO VILLA recently won the flyweight championship. Only a few weeks ago Mickey Walker captured the welterweight title from Jack Britton.

When a fighter wins a title it is only natural that he should desire to profit financially as a result of his efforts. It has been customary for all champions of the past to so handle their affairs.

Consequently when Mickey Walker, through his manager, let the world know that he was going on the stage for a couple of months, it caused no great surprise. Walker was simply doing what all other champions of the past have done, pick up some soft money without taking any chances.

Seek No-Decision Bouts
Of late years it has been customary for champions to seek no-decision bouts after winning their title. In such bouts their only change of losing off the championship was by being knocked out, which of course is a rarity in these days of light bitters.

When Abe Attell was champion featherweight, he so far outclassed his field, that in order to get matches he was compelled to take on lightweight. Johnny Dundee has also been forced to give away poundage in order to keep busy.

In his day Attell was complimented for his willingness to take on the lightweight, since none of the featherweights were able to press him. This practice, however, is being much abused by the modern fighters.

Stick To Their Class
Recently, the New York Boxing Commission ruled that there was no need of Villa going into the bantam class for opponents when there were plenty of flyweights able to offer keen competition. The other day the wires carried a story that Mickey Walker intended to take on several middleweights in the very near future. If such bouts are scheduled for New York, again the commission no doubt will veto them.

The big idea of going in the bantam class is taking no chance at going out of his class. "Anything that might happen to a champion in a bout with a much heavier man would have no bearing on his title. In other words, when a champion goes out of his class to meet a heavier man, he is adopting safety first tactics of the ring.

There are so many good welterweights anxious to take Walker on that to go out of his class makes it appear that he is dodging the issue.

Locke Best Point Getter In Conference

CHICAGO, Nov. 28.—(By the A. P.)—Gordon Locke, full-back on the University of Iowa was the heavy point scorer of the big ten. Locke piled up 72 points, making 12 touchdowns, while his team scored 141 points against 33 scored by opponents.

Locke's nearest competitors were Olin McGreevy, Minnesota halfback and "Chuck" Palmer of North Western, each having 24 points.

Michigan with 27 points placed second in the conference scoring. Halfback Kipke of Michigan was third in line for individual scoring honors, with 21 points.

One of the outstanding points of scoring was in the record of John Thomas of the Chicago Maroons. He made three touchdowns against Princeton in the inter-sectional clash but in conference battles was held without crossing the line. Another angle of scoring was the record of Shuttlesworth, Iowa half-back, who made 12 points, nine coming from goals from touchdowns and the remaining from a field goal.

WELLSTON WINS
The Lancaster team lost 21 to 6 when they played the Wellston-American Legion team Sunday at Wellston.

With The Pugs
YOUNGSTOWN.—Tony Zill, Youngstown won the newspaper decision over Johnny Ray, Pittsburgh lightweight here last night.

COLUMBUS.—Lou Janita won a 12-round decision over Mike O'Dowd. Both are Columbus lightweights.

BOSTON.—Pancheo Villa, American flyweight champion, defeated Young Montreal, bantamweight, in 10 rounds.

NEW YORK.—Johnny Dundee, junior lightweight champion, won a 12-round decision over Phil Delmont of New York.

CINCINNATI.—Ever Hammer, Chicago lightweight won a four round knockout over Marshall, Cincinnati in the eighth round of a 10-round bout.

NEW ORLEANS.—Anthony Dornay of Columbus won the decision over Young Denny of New Orleans in 15 rounds.

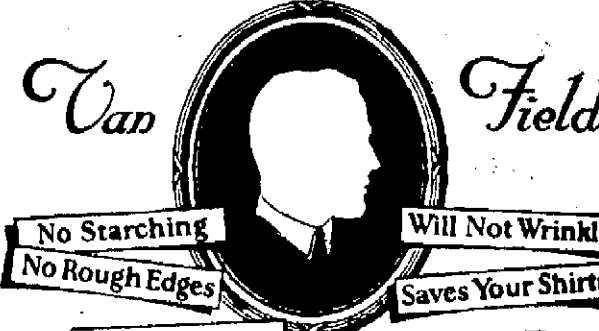

UNION MUST WIN TO CINCH FLAG

What is expected to be the deciding game in the elementary school football league will be staged Wednesday afternoon at 3:30 o'clock on the Sixteenth street gridiron between the undefeated Union street eleven and the Offshore street eleven.

Union must win this game to clinch the flag and should Offshore win a three-cornered tie will exist between Union, Offshore and McKinley. Offshore and McKinley have lost one game each. Offshore has a smaller team than Union but everyone of the players is game and a hard fighter and Union will find themselves up

Capt. McMillan

CHAMPAIGN, Ill., Nov. 28.—James McMillan of Gray's Lake, Ill., was named Captain of the 1923 University of Illinois football team last night. He won the heavyweight wrestling honors of the conference last year.

TRY IT

THE feat of Edward Payson Watson, aged 94, in walking from Buffalo to New York, 500 miles, in 28 walking days is remarkable not only on account of the vitality shown by one of his age, but for its contrast with present-day practice. The ambition of many persons is to ride, no matter how short the distance to be covered. So general is this that were it not impossible to take the car into the house legs might become atrophied through disuse. As useful as is the car and as enjoyable as trips in it may be where the distance is great there is no more healthful exercise than walking within reasonable limits. One can walk where one can go by no other means, and that is the pleasure of walking.

If one needs to cover distance quickly walking cannot be recommended if other means is available, but when one has leisure and the weather invites the woods, the fields, the hollows, the hillsides possess a reward for the one who visits them. One who is engaged in an occupation involving physical exertion may not care to take long walks after the day's work is done, but thousands who are engaged in sedentary pursuits would be benefited by tramps in the open air. Then, besides that, there are trees and rocks and flowers and streams and birds to interest one who is observant.

Not many would care to start out to walk 500 miles. One would need more leisure than falls to those who might be most benefited by such a hike, but all have time to take short walks in the vicinity of their homes. Try it.

SAVING HUMAN LIVES

THE death rate in registration areas of the United States last year dropped from 31.1 to 11.7 per 1,000 of population. In other words, seven lives in each 5,000 in the areas where records are kept were saved. If the decrease in deaths is general throughout nonregistration areas the difference between 1920 and 1921 would be approximately 150,000.

Comparison with previous years is interesting. In 1900 the death rate was 17.6 per 1,000 of population and there was a gradual reduction until 1909 when the rate was 14.4. A new record was made in 1914 and 1915 when the rate was 13.6 but in the two following years it went up again to 14 and 14.3. In 1918, the year so many lives were lost because of influenza, the rate was 18.1 deaths per 1,000 population.

Statistics make dry reading but these live when the rate per thousand is multiplied by 110,000 to give the number of deaths they represent. The remarkable improvement then becomes impressive.

Much credit for the decreased death rate must be given the science of health engineering, which seeks to prevent rather than cure diseases. Each community has its health authorities, who are charged with safeguarding the lives of residents. Protecting the water supply from contamination, destroying mosquitoes and flies, and enforcing quarantines are some of the duties of these authorities, and their work is undoubtedly reflected in mortality statistics.

Another cause of the improved condition is a growing appreciation of the value of health and respect for things that make it possible. In recent years people have begun to realize the importance of keeping themselves fit. Physical culture schools and publications, systems of exercising and dieting, admission of weight to the subjects available for polite conversation—these are signs of the times. There will never come a time when there will be no deaths, but humanity is learning to live the full span of years permitted by nature.

A WEATHER HUMORIST

"I know we will have a severe winter because women are wearing long skirts and human beings are working like heavers to stock their cellars with coal." The sparrow said, so birds took wing and flew to the south before summer had gone. The sparrow chuckled and stayed to enjoy the abundance which had been left behind. That is why, it is said, the sparrow is never mentioned when human beings, basing their forecasts on the condition of animal and vegetable life, predict weather variations.

An observer has announced that the winter will be severely cold. This is shown, he said, by the fact that hornets have built their nests high in the air, that the coat of the caterpillar is black, that beechnuts are more hardy and plentiful than usual, and that mountain ash berries are multitudinous.

Such prophets usually have a splendid sense of humor, but there was a time when their predictions were taken seriously and today many persons attach weight to them. Dr. Raymond L. Ditmars, close student of animal life and curator at the Bronx Zoo, is called upon every year to rout the bugaboo. One year, grey squirrels deserted Bronx park because of severe weather and built homes on unimproved property to the north. They stayed there for several years before they could be induced to return to the park where both food and shelter are provided by human hands. Birds still follow old routes to the south, formerly along coast lines but now extending far out over the ocean, because they are too stupid to change their course to conform with changed conditions. Animals are more sensitive to cold than humans, but their ability to predict weather changes is restricted to a few days or hours. That is why birds are found starving above the Mason-Dixon line when winter comes suddenly as was the case last year.

Both animal and vegetable life are weather historians and furnish a fairly accurate record of what has happened around them, but those who would point to them as prophets first should consult the weather bureau. Even humans with instincts sharpened by hundreds of years of study and thought are not infallible judges of that which is to come.

CLARKSBURG—William Holshon is a real two-gun man. When he was arrested charged with having shot at Charles Johnson, two revolvers and a pair of steel knuckles were found on his person. He was fined $51.00 in police court.

HUNTINGTON—Eighteen planes and twenty spare motors have been purchased by a company headed by Bob Shauk and Lieutenant A. B. McMillen, aviators. The equipment is to be used by an aerial transport company, to be organized in this city.

New York-Day-By-Day

BY O. O. McINTYRE

NEW YORK, Nov. 23—Salaries for dramatic critics along Park Row have reached a high peak. The critic scribes who form the Death Watch on the Italo are about the only special writers who are placed under contracts. Their prices are growing higher every day.

Just a few years ago the late Acton Davies wrote his brilliant reviews for $75 a week and William Winter, the dean of critics, was paid only $70 a week during his most successful years. Alan Dale and Louis De Foe were the early of newspaper shops when they reached the salary of $100 a week.

The critics now have more than 50 theatres to cover, whereas in the old days they had only ten. Percy Hammond established a new figure when he came here from Chicago, under an arrangement that guaranteed him $18,000 a year with a bonus attachment by which he can easily increase the figure to $22,000.

This is said to be the biggest salary among the critics. Heywood Brown of the World is said to receive $17,500 and is permitted to do all the outside work he chooses. A few weeks ago Alexander Woolcott left the Times at a salary of $125 a week for the Herald at a salary of $15,000 a year with extras on the side in the way of book reviews and royalties.

A large number of critics now have offices in the theatrical district, where stenographers are on hand to receive dictation and type reviews. It is a far cry from the days when they used to sit in editorial rooms after the play and wrote out their opinions with pencil.

The theatrical weeklies have made little headway with their cry that the critics banded together in a "vicious circle" to make certain plays and unmake others. Instead of the critics losing their posts, they are getting more money.

"Jurgen" has jumped out in front as the best-seller now that its publishers have been acquitted of publishing and "obscene" book. That looked very much like an article actually will mean a fortune for its author, James Hensch Cabell. The man who innocently started all the trouble was Walter Kingsley, a Broadway press agent. When "Jurgen" was issued he wrote a letter to a newspaper saying that all the chorus girls were denouncing the book. This put the Vice Society on the scent and its suppression followed. Mr. Kingsley was trying to convey the idea that chorus girls read only the best works of modern authors and the classics.

Incidentally, it is my opinion that "Jurgen" is a dull, stupid book. It roams through medieval and mythological atmosphere and gets nowhere. Its banality is suffocating.

My thoughts seem to turn to writers today. It is amazing the voluminous capacity that some have. There is a New York scribbler who writes

Doc Koko's KOLUM

If and When Winter Comes

"When winter comes to Main street," As Overton would say. The doctors on East Main street begin to make things par. 'Tis then the scurried host of its advances to make their call. And folks start taking powders, pills. With doctors taking all.

"When winter comes to Main street," The husband starts to fret; Because it's slow on Main street, His goal is not in yet. He's paid for that vacation For self and wife and child, But Christmas spoils elation; - That's driving Papa wild.

"When Christmas comes to Main street," The flapper flaps quite gay. And child of Jo. Disdain street. To her I tribute pay. From editor to printer. She charms us all from birth. Without her—summer, winter—Just what is Main street worth?

Good Sports

"Yes," said the lover with a cheerful smile, "the better man you."

"No," said the victor, with a smile just as cheerful, "I was luckier than he."

Then everybody shook hands and agreed they were both good fellows and both good liars.

IF YOU ARE WELL BREW

YOU will realize that a type-written letter is much easier to read than a letter that is written in even the best of handwriting. Consequently you will feel perfectly free to use for practically all social correspondence the little portable typewriter which you have already found practicable for business purposes.

Your signature to a type-written letter will, of course, be made personally in ink.

Wise Jottings

Music that moves you is not necessary. A man who probably knows says there never was a meal so expensive as the free lunch.

Said days are those in which the long green is plentiful. His good health, says a vegetarian, is the result of eating no meat and chewing it well.

There approaches the season when the missus will pack up her lingerie frocks and try to look sad when saying good-by to hubby at the station.

Three Words A Day

HODGEPODGE

Noun; pronounced hof-podj; accent on first syllable. A corruption of or later form of an old Scotch name hodge-podge. An indiscriminate mixture of many things, ingredients or subjects. Can be used often in conversation. As: His rambling talk was a perfect hodgepodge of unintelligible matter.

AFFLUENCE

Noun; pronounced af-lu-ens; accent on first syllable. Figuratively, profusion of riches; abundance of material goods, wealth. Example: Although poor in his youth, he rose rapidly to affluence through sheer ability.

FUNERAL

Adjective; pronounced few-ne-re-al; accent on second syllable. Literally, characteristic of a funeral. Figuratively, mournful, dismal; gloomy; lugubrious. Example: Why that funereal expression? Everything is coming out all right.

The Martin

If this fall's elections proved one thing more'n another it was that "open political observers" and "those in a position to know" didn't know any more than the rest of us. We'd think more o' beauty doctors if they'd prescribe a change o' scene for some o' their patients.

INNOCENTLY ABROAD — HOME-SICKNESS — BY BRIGGS

Shifting Responsibility

Brown lived between Gray and Green. Gray had a barking dog that was the torment of Brown's life. One day, in his desperation, he told Gray that if he would get rid of the dog he would give him a sovereign.

"All right," said Gray, "I'll do it."

Meeting Gray that afternoon Brown asked: "Have you done what you agreed to do and got rid of that dog?"

Gray—"Yes, I've got rid of him."

Brown—"Thank goodness! Now I shall be able to sleep at night. By the way, what did you do with him?"

Gray—"I sold him to Green. He gave me 10 shillings for him. Not so bad, eh?"

Borrowed

A little 5-year-old came running into his aunt's home, which was not far from his own, and said: "Oh, auntie, mother wants to know if you please borrow me while she goes shopping."

The Reason

Lady Visitor—Why are you crying, little man?

Little Man—Baw-hoo! I got into the jam and I can't blame it on sister 'cause dad's a finger-print expert."

Building Too Low

Recently a traveler called at a hotel in Paris and asked what the charge was for rooms.

"Forty francs for the first floor, thirty francs for the second, twenty francs for the third, and ten francs for the fourth floor," replied the hotel proprietor.

"Oh, very well, thank you," said the traveler, as he turned to go away.

"That does not please you?" replied the proprietor, as he called him back.

"Oh, your prices are all right," said the traveler, "but your hotel is not high enough for me."

Unfavorable

"I must go to the city and do a lot of shopping," said Mrs. Spendcash, at the breakfast table. "Will you write me a check, Bob? I shall go today if the weather is favorable. What is the forecast?"

Mr. Spendcash, seated at the other end of the table, consulted his paper, and read aloud:

"Rain, hail, snow, thunder, lightning and floods."—Youth's Companion.

We Don't Care Much For War

It may be, as the Secretary of War says, that we spend three times as much for candy and chewing gum as for war preparations, but the answer is that we get more satisfaction out of them.—Pittsburgh Dispatch.
